Interesting Exhibitions.

Christy Wilson's liberal gifts of bases on balls to the Islanders, coupled with 11 nice hits, defeated the ex-Islanders by a score of 6 to 5 when the two teams met at Island City park yesterday afternoon in the second and last game of the series between those teams. Dick, who was on the mound for the winners, issued not a single pass, and at the same time held his opponents to six hits. The real feature of the game was the triple play by Wanner and McBride. It was pulled off in the fourth inning. Manusch hit for two sacks and had been advanced to third on Kelley's hit into left. Kelley stole second. Jacobsen hit a fly to Wanner, who doubled Kelley at second and threw to third, catching George Manusch by a matter of inches. Together the teams also made three double plays, furnishing some classy fielding.

In the first inning of the game, the old-timers secured three runs. Wanner was out via Dick-Stark. Berger hit over second. McBride knocked a high one back of second which Manusch would have caught but for Engman's interference. Berger took second on the play, while McBride was safe at first. Lister hit into left, advancing both men and all three came in on Al Swalm's pretty double out to the club house. Al was caught off second on the throw in. Corkhill ended the inning by striking out. In the fourth Wanner fanned and Berger poked a beauty out to the club house for three sacks. McBride lived on a fielder's choice and while Berger was being chased down between third and the home plate, took third. He scored on Engman's miff of Lister's hit. In the sixth, Corkhill hit into left when one was down, stole second, went to third on Whiteside's infield hit, and came home on Hugo Wilson's wild throw to third to catch him. This ended the run-getting for the Class A artists.

Time Turns in Fifth.
In the first inning, the Islanders started to catch up. Vogel accepted a pass from Wilson, went to second on Stark's hit, to third on Manusch's hit and came home on Kelley's sacrifice fly to Swalm. The inning was ended when Manusch and Jacobsen were doubled. Till the fifth inning the Islanders were easy money for the ex-Islanders. In that inning, McGinty hit to center, went to second when Engman was passed, and came home on Dick's hit to center. In the next inning the score was tied. After Kelley had fled out, Jacobsen binged one to the right garden for three. McGinty was out on an infield bounder, Eng-man walked, as did Grogan. Dick then poked his second hit, scoring Jacobsen and Engman. Grogan came home on Vogel's double to right. Stark was out on an infield poke. In the next inning the winning run was scored. Manusch hit for his third safe one and was advanced by Kelley's sacrifice. Jacobsen stole third, and in attempting to head him off, Wilson threw wild and he came home, scoring the winning run. Grogan fled out to Lister. The score:

Ex-Islanders Cop Saturday's Contest in a Handy Manner

In Saturday's game the Islanders fell before the Class A aggregation after a hard fought battle. The final count was 6 to 3 and with the exception of one inning, the Islanders were on an equality with the winners all the time. Whiteside, an amateur twirler who did good work with the Illinois club of Moline all summer, toed the slab for the regulars and he did very well. Seven men succumbed to his benders and only in one inning were the old-timers able to get to him for bunched hits. This came in the seventh and spelled the downfall of the Islanders. Three hits, two triples and a double, coupled with a sacrifice, a walk and an error gave the ex-Islanders four runs and a lead which the home boys could not overcome. Berger and McBride made the triples, and Christy Wilson punched out the two sacker in this round.

How Islanders Scored.
The home players made two of their scores in the third inning. Whiteside led with a single and stole second. Vogel hit to first and was safe on Lister's boot. Whiteside scoring on the play and Vogel going to third. Manusch grounded to Wanner and was thrown out at first, but Otto tallied on the put-out, making two for the inning. The other one came in the ninth on a double by McGinty and an error by Wanner.

The ex-Islanders scored one man in the first inning and another in the third before making their final killing in the seventh. In the first, Wanner singled and McBride and Berger followed suit, but Wanner died trying for third before Mac's hit came. An error by Whiteside on Swalm's grounder after Lister had fanned let Berger over the pan. In the third Berger tripled and stole home with the second of the ex-Islanders' scores. In addition to batting like a fiend, Berger played a marvelous game in the short field, getting eight assists and one putout out of nine chances. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Well, it is finally all over. Now, Mr. Fan will have to content himself with the bulletin board for a time, and then turn to football.

Good crowds were at both of the games, and the players got a nice little piece of coin for the entertainment afforded the lovers of baseball.

Whiteside, the amateur who twirled for the Islanders in Saturday's contest, looked mighty good, to say the least. He seems to have all the earmarks of a corner, and it might be a good stunt to get his name on an Islander contract for next year.

McGinty and Engman, playing as Islanders, did nearly all the effective batting for the team in the first game. Together with Grogan, who played in the outfield, these youngsters look good for Three-Eye baseball. Engman was a whirlwind at short, and Grogan's throw to the plate after catching a long fly in Saturday's game was a feature.

To tell the honest truth, the ex-Islanders looked more like the Islanders than the Islanders did themselves. With McBride, Berger, Wanner and Lister in the infield, and Neal in the box Saturday, fans had to pinch themselves to make sure this was 1910 and not several years back.

MAY CANCEL THE GRAND PRIZE RACE

Large Number of Accidents in Vanderbilt Cup Contest Moves Supervisors.

New York, Oct. 3.—The board of supervisors of Nassau county, Long Island, are holding a special meeting today to consider the advisability of cancelling the permit for the grand prize automobile race scheduled to be held over the Vanderbilt cup course Oct. 16.

Notwithstanding Saturday's list of four dead and more than 20 injured, incident to the Vanderbilt, A. R. Partridge, general manager of the Long Island Motor parkway, is authority for the statement that nothing but official interference shall stop the grand prize. Several drivers booked to participate in the event have demanded more adequate policing of the course.

CHICAGO AT LAST CINCHES PENNANT

Downs Reds Second Time but Is Left Minus Evers for the World Series.

By defeating the Cincinnati Reds in that city yesterday, 8 to 4, the Chicago Cubs clinched the pennant and took another title to rank with the triumphs of 1906, 1907 and 1908. The world's series, with Chicago and Philadelphia contenders, now looms up the biggest event on the sporting calendar.

While the race practically has been over for more than a month, it required yesterday's victory officially to eliminate New York, the runners-up.

Chicago clinched a tie with New York Saturday by defeating the Reds, but did so at the cost of a broken leg for Johnny Evers, the second baseman, who will as a result be unable to play again this season. His absence from the lineup will cause a gap in the infield during the world's series that will be hard to fill. Evers was hurt sliding into the plate.

CLOSE MATCH TO IOWA CITY TEAM

LOCALS ARE OUTWEIGHED

But Put Up Brilliant Contest in Face of Handicap and Seemed to Have Victory Cinched.

In a close, exciting football game Saturday afternoon, Rock Island high school team went down to defeat at the hands of the Iowa City high school team. The final was 5 to 3, and to say that Iowa City was fortunate to get away with the big end of the score is putting it mildly. In spite of the fact that they outweighed the locals many pounds to the man, they did not show the class of the locals. But for their strong line they would have been easy victims for the locals.

MacManus, quarterback for Rock Island, made the locals' only point when he put a drop kick over the goal in the third quarter from the 20-yard line. It looked till the last few seconds of play as if that would be the only score of the game, but in the last seconds Iowa City pulled off a series of forward passes over the line of scrimmage which carried the ball within a few feet of the goal. After having changed hands twice, another forward pass, exactly like the others in formation was pulled off, and Leighton, right end for the "varsity" city team, scored the only touchdown of the game. The attempt to kick goal by Iowa City was a failure.

Brilliant Play Seen.
Throughout the contest MacManus played in brilliant style, and his drop kick for Rock Island's only points should have been the fitting climax of the game. Budeller, who did the most of the punting for the locals, made good with almost every kick, and through Iowa City's inability to hold the ball, Rock Island gained much ground. The ball was in one side's territory as much as the other but Iowa City came closer to the local goal more often than the locals could place their opponents' goal in danger. At these stages, when Iowa City was within a few yards of scoring a touchdown, the locals proved their strength by holding them for downs, and then punting out of danger.

Iowa City won the toss at the beginning of the contest and chose to kick off to Rock Island. On the first few downs it was easily seen that the locals could do nothing by bucking the line, and a punting game in which the locals had the best of it, was resorted to.

Swisher, quarterback of the Iowa City team, played a brilliant game, making most of the gains for his team by end runs and by accurate forward passes to his ends.

Misinterpreted a Rule?
A strange circumstance occurred on the gridiron during the game. S. M. Hands of Iowa City was referee of the contest, and at one time, when Rock Island punted and regained the ball when Iowa City muffed the kick, he attempted to give the ball to his home team and place the ball from where it had been kicked. Rock Island, of course, took exception to his ruling, and Hands consulted his rule book. Unable to find a rule to govern his decision, a local football man was called into the contest and on his ruling, the ball was given to the team to which it rightfully belonged—Rock Island. The rule for this was shown to the referee, and his answer was that it read differently to him when he was reading the rules on the train in the morning. The same thing occurred later in the game, but the point was less important.

The summary of the game is as follows:

MAROONS FALL BEFORE CHAMPS

Local Football Players Outweighed and Outclassed by Moline Aggregation.

FIGHT PLUCKILY HOWEVER

Winners Find It Difficult to Score on Them Until They Are Worn Out
—Final Is 38 to 0.

Hopes of bringing the tri-city championship of independent football teams to this city through the agency of the Maroons went glimmering yesterday when the present champions, the Moline West Ends, drubbed the locals by a score of 38 to 0. The game was a grueling contest, both sides working hard throughout and the winners having to exert themselves for every touchdown they made. The locals were outweighed from five to 10 pounds to the man, and when this is considered it has to be admitted that they put up a brilliant fight. They played their heavier opponents almost even in the first half of the game, but gradually the West Ends wore them down and piled up the score. All the substitutes carried by the Maroons were forced into the game in the second half through injuries to the regular players, and with the team thus broken up, the Molliners found the going fairly easy.

Rock Island Boys Stars.

While the fruits of victory went to Moline, much of the credit for it was due a Rock Island boy, "Skal" Anderson at quarter being the particular star of the contest. His headwork, his ability to carry the ball and his leadership after the retirement of Captain Johnson early in the game, marked him as a player of note. Ray Wolfe, left halfback for the West Ends, was another star, his long end runs being a feature of the game. For the Maroons, Juhl, at quarter, played brilliant ball, although he had few chances to star, as the ball was in the possession of the Molliners most of the time.

The first quarter ended without a score, although the West Ends went to within a foot of the goal line on one occasion before having to reline.

DAVENPORT WINS

Transriver High School Football Team Walks Over the Squad from Tipton.

FINAL COUNT IS 32 TO 0

Moline High School Falls Before
Williams and Vashli College
by Score of 31 to 0.

Davenport high school found the Tipton high school football team easy pickings in their game Saturday and when it was all over and the score counted up the Pretzels were the winners, 32 to 0. The lads from across the river outweighed the visitors and in addition outclassed them in general football knowledge and training. Inability on the part of the Tipton backs to handle punts properly was responsible for about half of the Davenport scores. Three different times the ball was recovered after punts by the Davenport team and on two of these occasions the runner went over the goal line for touchdowns. Tipton played well in the opening minutes of play and at the end of the first quarter the score was 0 to 0, but the longer they played the less chance they had.

Moline Defeated 31 to 0.
William and Vashli college proved altogether too strong for Moline high school in their game at Aledo Saturday and the Plov City boys lost by the largest score that has been made against them for a number of years, 31 to 0. The collegians outweighed the Molliners, but they did not make much use of this advantage, confining themselves to the open style of game with forward passes and trick plays galore. The Moline players seemed unable to fathom these plays and the collegians ran over them from the start. Substitutes were put in during the second half by the William and Vashli coach, after which the high school lads made a better showing, only one touchdown being registered against them in the last quarter.
